IQMS Now Offers Virtual Training for EnterpriseIQ

Live Online Sessions Deliver Speed and Convenience at a Fraction of the Cost

Paso Robles, California, February 25, 2009 – IQMS, a leader in the design and development of Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) software, now offers Virtual Training Classes for companies using EnterpriseIQ, the innovative, single-source enterprise software solution written, developed, and supported exclusively by IQMS. Companies can now access live, online training sessions and take advantage of IQMS's knowledgeable training staff at minimal cost. Virtual training can dramatically enhance training efforts by reducing cost, reducing lead-time, and increasing training focus – all with the convenience of pre-defined courses and times that fit within almost any schedule.

Via the Internet and a toll-free conference line, IQMS training staff connects directly with multiple customers in a virtual “classroom” to conduct online training in real-time. Virtual Training Classes are designed around popular subjects that show users how to gain maximum benefit from the EnterpriseIQ system. Limited registrations with question and answer opportunities assure each attendee has a personal and rewarding experience.

“Studies have proven that companies placing a premium on training progress significantly faster, with better results than those that do not,” explains Randy Flamm, president and founder of IQMS. “At IQMS we’ve found that training is linked to successful usage and continuous improvement from the user community. That’s why we make it easier than ever for our customers to engage their employees in the optimal use of their EnterpriseIQ system. While our Virtual Training Classes are not designed to replace more intensive training scenarios, they are a cost-effective and easy way to educate employees at all levels on the integrated nature of EnterpriseIQ.”

Virtual Training Classes supplement other training options offered by IQMS including classroom training, onsite facility training, single customer Internet Based Training, and free online videos. Virtual Training Classes bring the best of training and the online user forums together in one convenient place. Upcoming sessions cover topics such as detailed review of recent software enhancements for manufacturing, recent enhancements for accounting, and system navigation.
